Angel

Casey Donahew

well her wings are broken and she never prays and that ole halo on her head has seen better days she knows hes watching she feels him there and it breaks her heart to think the weight was to much to bear

Chorus:
yea shes an angel whos lost her way yea shes an angel from another day she may be the devil set to lead me a stray but i think shes an angel thats lost her way

shes got lines runnin up her arms like an LA freeway i dropped her off at rehab 7 times but she just wont stay shes never climbed a mountain but shes seen her share of snow she got locked up in johnson county for 7 pills and blow

Chorus:
yea shes an angel whos lost her way
yea shes an angel from another day
thats lost her way

she got 3 kids that dont know her name she sold her body a couple times to ease the pain she wakes up screamin her face full of tears shes only 29 but she has aged beyond her years

Chorus:
yea shes an angel from another day she may be the devil set to lead me a stry
thats lost her way

yeah i think shes an angel well i know shes an angel whos lost her way
