

Father to Son to Grandson

David S Theroff

I will remember that time
My mind was just rambling around
My mom said things would be fine
My hands and my heart were bound

We moved to everywhere
A new town and places to know
I got used to those blank stares
Once I got to know them we had to go

I needed someone to follow
My dad was always gone
He seemed so empty and hollow
He'd leave so early at dawn

He still has not learned yet
He has a grandson you know
One he has never met
The memory of his name will go

I will remember this time
My mind is rambling around
My girl said things will be fine
My hands and heart are bound
