

Hurt No One

The Used

I never meant to hurt no one
Nobody every tore me down like you
I think you knew it all along
And now you'll never see my face again
I never meant to hurt nobody
And will I ever see the sun again
I wonder where the guilt had gone
I think of what I have become and still
I never meant to hurt nobody
Now I'm taking what is mine
Letting go of my mistakes
Build a fire from what I've learned
And watch it fade away
Because I have got no heart to break
I cannot fake It like before
I thought that I could stay the same
And now I know that I'm Not sure
I even love me anymore
I never meant to hurt no one
Sometimes you've got to look the other way
It never should have lasted so long
A shame you'll never see my face again
I never meant to hurt nobody
I Know I'll never be the same again
No taking back what I have done
I think of what I have become
And still, I never meant to hurt nobody
