Stay

Pink Floyd

Stay and help me to end the day
And if you don't mind
We'll break a bottle of wine
Stick around
And maybe we'll put one down
'Cause I wanna find
What lies behind those eyes
Midnight blue
Burning gold
A yellow moon
Is growing coldI rise
Looking through my morning eyes
Surprised to find you by my side
Rack my brain
And to try to remember your name
To find the words to tell you goodbye
Morning dues
Newborn day
Midnight blue
Turned to grayMidnight blue
Burning gold
A yellow moon
Is growing cold
