

The Ghost Within

...And You Will Know Us By the Trail of Dead

There's a curse upon your home
There's a sadness in this room
There's a ghost behind the wall
Trying to call to us
And you try to run, but you can't
And it knows that you'll escape
There's a weight behind this door
Great shadows from above
There's a face that's looking out
And it calls to us
And you try to run, but you can't
And it knows that you'll escape
And you hurry to escape
But it seems to know your name
And it wants you to let go
And it wants to come home
And it wants to remind you
That you're running out of time
And it wants to remind you
That you're running out of time
And you try to run but you can't
And it knows that you'll escape
And you hurry to escape
But it seems to know your name
I want you to let go
And I want you to come home
