To Tell the Truth

Kim Richey

I like to think nobody knows what's goin' on inside
You like to say it didn't mean a thing or hurt to say goodbye
I tell a joke, you laugh too loud, party never ends
We're not fooling anyone so why try to pretendTo tell the truth, I still love you
Tell the truth, you still care too
And I can see it in your eyes, see it in your smile
Clear across the room, tell the truth, tell the truthTrue love knows the real thing baby, there's nowhere to hide
It hears every word you'll never say, sees through every lie
Maybe we could find a way to get beyond our pride
It's such a waste of precious time to keep up this disguiseTo tell the truth, I still love you
Tell the truth, you still care too
And I can see it in your eyes, see it in your smile
Clear across the room, tell the truth, tell the truth
Tell the truth, I still love you
