

Build the Cities (Classical)

Karma Fields

Miles of fire
I'm losing ground
And in the flashing
My world comes crashing down I'm left to nowhere
No place to hide
Out in the open
Like ashes in the sky I quit the illusion
I'm moving on
I'm moving on I let the flames light up the future
Making empires of sound
And see the tears become laughter
You break the bridges
To build the cities I let the flames light up the future
Making empires of sound
And see the tears become laughter
You break the bridges
To build the cities. I let the flames light up the future
Making empires of sound
And see the tears become laughter
You break the bridges
To build the cities. I let the flames light up the future
Making empires of sound
And she would chase what's coming after
You break the bridges
To build the cities. You burnt the bridges
To build the cities.
