

I'd Like to Know What You Were Thinking

Bad Love Junkie

I'd like to know what you were thinking
As you dressed and made our bed
Just the cold hard facts dear
You at least owe me that
Did tears so big and heavy
Fall down from your eyes
Falling in regret
Or disappointment
Knowing that you had to alibi
You want to know how I'm feeling
Think razor blades on muscles tight
No surprise here I'm not laughing
Although it's funny you would ask
The shattered mirror on the wall
Reflects what's in my heart
Am I furious
Are you serious
What do you see when you look in my eyes
Betrayed
Tears so big and heavy
Fall now from your eyes
Falling in regret
Or disappointment
Knowing that my love for you has died
Don't want to know what you are thinking
I only came here to break your heart
That's a cold hard fact dear
I at least owe you that
Betrayed
