

I Still Remember

Bloc Party

I, I still remember
How you looked that afternoon
There was only you You said it's just like a full moon
Blood beats faster in our veins
We left our trousers by the canal
And our fingers, they almost touched You should have asked me for it
I would have been brave
You should have asked me for it
How could I say no? And our love could have soared
Over playgrounds and rooftops
Every park bench screams your name
I kept your tie
I'd have gone wherever you wanted I still remember
I still remember And on that teacher's training day
We wrote our names on every train
Laughed at the people off to work
So monochrome and so lukewarm And I can see our days are becoming night
I could feel your heartbeat across the grass
We should have run, I would go with you anywhere
I should have kissed you by the water You should have asked me for it
I would have been brave
You should have asked me for it
How could I say no? And our love could have soared
Over playgrounds and rooftops
Every park bench screams your name
I kept your tie
I'd have let you if you asked me I still remember
I still remember
I still remember
I still remember
