Call To Arms

Sick of It All

Another cause, heed the call, everybody rally 'round don't contemplate if it's right, just follow the crowd but don't you dare disagree
'cause they'll question your loyalty their idea of comraderie is to heed their call to arms who appointed you the moral judge pointing your fingers at everyone don't pull that guilt trip bullshit on me nothing you say or do can decide for me So go ahead, keep your rules, i'll choose my own wars your accusations and harsh words can't do me any harm
'cause i don't believe in blind loyalty that's just mob mentality
I will answer what's right for me
And not your call to arms
