Spectacle

Cursa

You're always such a spectacle
You said you would but you never will change
You'll only do it if I do the same
Love is such a dangerous game, a dangerous game
At first I could see
That you were weak in the knees
Your smile was so rehearsed
When you gave me your t-shirt
On the honeymoon
Where we never left the room
Sometimes we'll want to go back there
But then I'll remember, we've got to remember
You're always such a spectacle
Guess it was the best you could do
Your favorite dress for the world to see through
Spilled your drink but you didn't mean to
You're always such a spectacle
You said you would but you never will change
You'll only do it if I do the same
Love is such a dangerous game, a dangerous game
When you told me this
That wickedness is a myth
That was invented for losers
'Cause baby, the truth hurts, baby, the truth hurts
Well, I thought you were shallow
But then I fell in deep
Why couldn't you keep it our little secret?
You're my only weakness
You're always such a spectacle
Guess it was the best you could do
Your favorite dress for the world to see through
Spilled your drink but you didn't mean to
And love is such a spectacle
Just when you think it's going well for you
Life's a movie that we sleep through
Every little thing that we do
You're always such a spectacle
Nothing ever really does change
'Cause if you feel it, baby, know I feel the same

Love is such a dangerous game
Love is such a dangerous game, a dangerous game
