Shame

Justin Hayward

Everywhere I go, I see our shame
Everywhere I go, all I can see is pain
I see it on the pavements, it's lying in the streets
I see it on the faces of the people, I don't meetAnd everywhere I go, I hear the sound
Crying in my head, it just goes round and round
I hear it on the airwaves, it's coming down the wire
It's starting to consume us like a fireBut I'm only dreaming, as you can see
I don't expect, that you should follow me
The road is lonely, I don't complain
It's such a shameEverywhere I go, I feel the love
Washing over me, I just can't get enough
I hear it in the music, that's coming down through me
I know there's love between us, if we only set it freeAnd everywhere I go, I feel the joy
Hold it in your heart, don't let it be destroyed
'Cos all we need is freedom, and all we ask is peace
All we ask is no one on their kneesBut I'm only dreaming, as you can see
I don't expect, that you should follow me
The road is lonely, I don't complain
But it's such a shame'Cos all we need is freedom, all we ask is peace
All we ask is no one on their kneesBut I'm only dreaming, as you can see
I don't expect, that you should follow me
The road is lonely, I don't complain
But it's such a shameIt's such a shame
The road is lonely, I don't complain
But it's such a shameHey, it's such a shame
I'm only dreaming
I'm only dreaming
Hey, it's such a shame
