

Last One I Love

Marc E. Bassy

Lately in the evening
Laying next to my lover
And the moon on your silhouette
Is my only guide
And I cant even read your eyes
So my mind
Slowly begins to wonder Yeah I wonder will you
Be the last one I love
(x4)Robbers through the alley,
Sneaking through our back window
It was all for nothing
It was empty inside
And it's pouring in LA tonight
So I walked, all the way back down in peacoat (?) Yeah I wonder will you
Be the last one I love
(x4)If your good money, baby step into the light
Let me know that your out there tonight
Yeah I'm mixed words and some whiskey on a flight
Just to make sure that I landed on time
And I wrote me a song I could sing
Just in case I forgot everything
And the chances are a little fade
But just in case it never goes away Yeah I wonder will you
Be the last one I love
(x4)
