Before

Pet Shop Boys

The telephone's not answered

So many times you'll call

For many different reasons

So many tears will fall before You find your love before

It comes knocking at your door

Before you know for sure

This is what you were waiting forSo many fears will haunt you

Deny them or regret

Some men will make you want to

And you will not forget before You find your love before

It comes knocking at your door

Before you know for sure

This is what you were waiting for There's a story of a man, who loved too much

He ended up inside a prison cell

You've got to want to give, to get it

Or you could land up in the same suspicious hellIt's happened before

It's happened beforeCoincidence and patience

Will mend this fatal flaw

Though it may seem a long wait

Others have been here before You find your love before

It comes knocking at your door

Before you know for sure

This is what you were waiting for One day when the phone starts ringing

You'll answer to the words you're longing for

No tears, no trade, no prison cell

Whatever you need he will return moreIt's happened before

It's happened before You find your love before

It comes knocking at your door

Before you know for sure

This is what you were waiting for You find your love before

It comes knocking at your door

Before you know for sure

This is what you were waiting for It's happened before

It's happened before
