All My Mistakes

Teitur

Who is to say who wins or who loses?
I sing to myself at the end of the day
When I know what the blues is
All my mistakes have become masterpieces
I was born in the goodness of grace
Because of faith, because of courage
Because of forgiveness
All my mistakes have become masterpieces
There comes a time
You must stay in the moment while your heart's still bleedin'
There comes a time
When you must walk away though your heart's still beatin'
There comes a time
You must stay in the moment while your heart's still bleedin'
There comes a time
When you must walk away though your heart's still beatin'
Who is to say who wins or who loses?
I sing to myself at the end of the day
When I know what the blues is
All my mistakes have become masterpieces
All my mistakes have become masterpieces
