

Johnny Have You Seen Her

The Rembrandts

Johnny have you seen her? She was headed out this way
And I notice, that you don't have much to say
Do you think that she's been wanderin' a little far from home?
Oh Johnny, tell me what's been goin' on? Johnny can you hear me? 'Cause I could really use a friend
And I've known you, since before I can't say when Did you think I was the kind of man to leave well enough alone?
Oh Johnny, tell me what's been goin' on? If you could look inside this tortured heart of mine
You would see the pain I'm goin' through
Can you look me in the eyes and tell if I am blind?
Maybe then I might believe you 'Cause I wanna believe you Johnny did she tell you that her heart belongs to me?
And did she tell you, that I will never set her free?
For the vows that we made years ago are carved upon a stone
Oh Johnny, tell me what's been goin' on? If you could look inside this tortured heart of mine
You would see the pain I'm goin' through
Can you look me in the eyes and tell if I am blind?
Maybe then I might believe you 'Cause I wanna believe you Johnny, yeah Johnny have you seen her? She was headed out this way
And I notice, that you don't have much to say
You can take me for the fool I am that's where the line is drawn
Oh Johnny, tell me what's been goin' on? If you could look inside this tortured heart of mine
You would see the pain I'm goin' through
Can you look me in the eyes and tell if I am blind?
Maybe then I might believe you If you could look inside this tortured heart of mine
You would see the pain I'm goin' through
Can you look me in the eyes and tell if I am blind?
Maybe then I might believe you 'Cause I wanna believe you
I wanna believe you
I wanna believe you
Yeah, I wanna believe you

Songwriters

Danny Wilde; Phil Solem
Published by
WB MUSIC CORP.; WARNER-TAMERLANE PUBLISHING CORP.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>