The Sound Of Your Voice

Jaci Velasquez

You spoke and light came to be
You spoke and carved out the sea
You stretched out the heavens, holding the stars in their place
You spoke a marvelous plan
You spoke, breathed life into man
Creation displaying your beauty in wondrous array
The sound of your voice echoes forever
The sound of your voice holds us together
There's nothing more powerful
Nothing more glorious
Than the sound of your voice

You speak calling my name

You speak and I'm never the same
How my heart thrills as you whisper away all my fear
You speak of a kingdom to come
You speak of an army of love
Who'll go to the nations inviting the broken to hear
Come and hear
