The Games We Play

Andreas Johnson

You say it's solid poetry
It's what you want to see some sensuality
When you cry, I just can't prove you wrong
No I just play along I guess it turns you onThe games we play
The shows we give
The hearts we break
We live through this
The games we playDo right, it's getting critical
Are we to cynical could use a miracleThe games we play
The shows we give
My heart you break
I live through this
The games we playThe games we play
The rules we make
Like secret codes
We can't escape
The games we playYou say there really is no doubt
We just can't do withoutThe games we play
The shows we give
The hearts we break
We live through this
The games we playThe rules we bend
With lovers lust, we will defend
The games we play
You say it's solid poetry
