

Divine Intervention

Pennywise

You don't need divine intervention
For all the things that you never can face
You don't need good intentions
Cause in the end it is all just a waste
We all need an endless vacation
I can't face the day
We just need reconciliation
To repair what is wrong in our lives
From all the problems the world can provide
So wait so many things that I'll never break away
Save me from all the chaos I'll radiate till I'm gone
Don't want to try I want to waste away till I'm lost
Wait save your answers
There's nothing when you're gone from here
It's only another day wasted
That's replayed in the back of your mind
Among the shadows and little white lies
A snapshot that you suffocated
You don't need a crude benediction
When you're feeling alone in the night
A pale savior you can sacrifice
You just need a new definition
