Drown

Too much time has gone by
Take a look back on that life
I see your eyes, I see myself
And I can't look back on that life
Forced to listen forced to learn
With the sounds of the lonely
I remember now, it takes me down
Leave me, leave me now
Dislocated I walked away
You feel the walls begin to build
You were the one
I'm sorry but you could've been anyone
I see you now, you show me everything
Forced to listen forced to learn
With the sounds of being all alone
I remember now, it takes me down
Leave me, leave me now
