Every Stitch

The Thermals

The past a dream, the past no meaning
Today was fine, so don't remind me
I cut the lock now, I'm through talking
Today was fine, so don't remind me

Just push away
The past dries the ink stays alive
The words remain to control the pages
I cut the ink now, I'm through thinking
Today was fine, so don't remind me

Just push away
Push away

Every stitch
Too early cut away
Every sour dish
I laid upon the table
Every thought
That I left in the raw

I believe what they say
And I know these too
Will fade

Hold me close
Hold me closer
Hold me
Cause I'm never Getting older

I know you saved every letter
You know sure as fuck I remember
It's a fallen time we've seen
And it's all the time I need
So take it

I've seen the sun losing light
I blink and it burns so fuckin' brights
It's a fallen time we've seen

And it's all the time I need
So take it
