Sanctuary

Kevin Max

Tried everything to find you
I even took the stairway to hell
I wrote these words down to remind you
That I know life is never pass or failSo hand me the keys to your Kingdom
Give me back my garden of Eden
Lead me to a place that I can call my own
A home, a sanctuary, homeAnd we are standing on the edge of it
Trying to make some sense of it all
The fear is building and the hatred
Until you know we're left with nothing left at all
You know I'm fallingSo hand me the code to your gates of knowledge
Teach me the truth I never learned in college
Lead me through the valley, let me find a place called Home, a sanctuary, homeAnd it's the architecture of peace
And it's the streets that lead to release
And it's the hallways and doorways of hope
And its a place that we call homeHome, I tried everything to find you
Home, I lost everything to find youThe military is leading tours through town
A couple more weeks and the walls come down
I don't care if it's East or West
I just need to get some rest, I'm homeAnd it's the architecture of peace
And it's the streets, the lead to release
And it's the hallways and doorways of hope
And it's a place that we call homeSha la sha la la la sha la
Sha la la la la la sha la
Sha la la la la la, home
