Word Game

Stephen Stills

Would you knock a man down

If you don't like the cut of his clothes

Could you put a man away

If you don't want to hear what he knows

Well, it's happening right here

People dying of fear by the drovesAnd I know most of you

Either don't believe it's true

Or else you don't know what to do

Or maybe I'm singing about you

Who knowsIt's incredibly sick, you can feel it

As across the land it flows

Prejudice is slick when it's a word game

It festers and grows

Move along quick, it furthers one

To have somewhere to goYou can feel it as it's rumblin'

Let emotions keep a tumblin'

Then as cities start to crumblin'

Mostly empty bellies grumblin'

Here we goPeople see somebody different

Fear is the first reaction shown

Then they think they've got him licked

The barbaric hunt begins and they move in slow

A human spirit is devoured

The remains left to carrion crowI was told that life is change

And yet history remains

Does it always stay the same

Do we shrug it off and say

Only God knowsBy and by somebody usually goes

Down to the ghetto try and help

But they don't know why folks treat them cold

And the rich keep getting richer

And the rest of us just keep getting oldYou see one must have a mission

In order to be a good Christian

If you don't you will be missing

High Mass or the evening showAnd the well fed masters reap the harvests

Of the polluted seeds they've sown

Smug and self-righteous they bitch about people they owe

And you can't prove them wrong

They're so God damn sure they know have seen these things with my very own eyes

And defended my battered soul It must be too tough to die American propaganda, South African lies

Will not force me to take up arms, that's my enemies' prideAnd I won't fight by his rules that's foolishness besides

His ignorance is gonna do him in and nobody's gonna cry
Because his children they are growing up
With bigots and their silver cups they're fed up
They might throw up on youAlright, ooh
