Vision

Funker Vogt

This is the next century and we live far beyond killing people doesn't matter a necessary means to an endwaiting for the final day a premonition of what will come the clock counts of the seconds at least there will be no retreata vision and a dream it was now and had been the focus of everthing
you cant escape the deadly stingyou ride into the abyss at a hundred miles an hour now you have already reached the point of no returnthis is your destiny to protect the new invention even if it costs your life we'll be equal to our goda vision and a dream
it was now and had been
you cant escape the deadly sting
