Bury Your Head

Saosin

Bury your head
Bury your headI was feeling fine, youll be coming clean tonight
(And Ill be falling down with you once again)
Call me your valentine, call me once tonight
And I will then say it's okayThe things you've said, Im rehearsing them
The things you've said, Im rehearsing themThey went back on us
(Closed eyes rolled back, couldn't step it up)
I could know him to come over
When its the thought that emerges
(Take back, couldn't step it up)
I could never love, your eyes have changedBury your head, has the child smashed you down
And the psalms will never call me again
(Fall down below)
I'll sleep tonight
(When you're okay)
And I will then say it's okayThe things you've said, Im rehearsing them
The things you've said, Im rehearsing themThey went back on us
(Closed eyes rolled back, couldn't step it up)
I could know him to come over
When its the thought that emerges
(Take back, couldn't step it up)
I could never love, your eyes have changedThey will be the ones who see her come
This is what you call loveThey stole my lies, you've had it all
They wandered around and 'round my mouth
They stole my lie, she'll tie it all
(Stole it all)
They have been the ones whove seen enoughThey went back on us
(Closed eyes rolled back, couldn't step it up)
I could know him to come over
When its the thought that emerges
(Take back, couldn't step it up)
I could never love, your eyes have changedYou'll be coming clean tonight
