Pennywise

I got some shit for sale you oughtta get some (You'll be the highest guy who ever lived)
It might kill you man you won't even know it
(I can feel your best sense starting to give)
You take the chance you lose control
The lessons from your past you need to knowTake one more hit of base
That shit is gonna blow up in your face
Ripping glass shards through your heartYou got a problem man you ought to fix it
You think you're getting high
Well guess again
Until it's too late well you wont even know it
You better stop before you hit a dead end
You take the chance you lose control
The lessons from your past you need to knowTake one more hit of base
That shit is gonna blow up in your face
Ripping glass shards through your heartWhen I see you out on the street
A different story every time we meet
You been hanging with a different crowd
Your acting tough and your talkin' loudIt's gonna work for you every single day
A bad habit and it won't go away
Where you gone where's my best friend?
I can't help you till you let me in
You take the chance you lose control
The lessons from your past you need to knowTake one more hit of base
That shit is gonna blow up in your face
Ripping glass shards through your heart
