Clouds Are Breaking

Juliette Reilly

Clouds Are Breaking
Juliette Reilly

White rain perfect silence
Saturday perfect timing
Stopped listening in my headphones I stopped listening to myself.

White house with a chimney
Let me out, Iâ€™m feeling dizzy
I stopped listening in my headphones,
I stopped listening

The antennas punching though
From the empire below
Everyone I ever knew
Telling me I had to open the floodgates

But I break for you
Like a cloud, you never asked me too
Youâ€™re my sunshine climbing through
And my clouds are breaking for you

The antennas punching though
From the empire below
Everyone I ever knew
Telling me I had to open the floodgates

But I break for you
Like a cloud, you never asked me too
Youâ€™re my sunshine climbing through
And my clouds are breaking for you

I break, I break, I break [x4]
