Voices

Godsmack

Listen to the rain falling day by day
Listen to the rain falling day by day by dayI hear you calling, voices are here again
I hear you whisper, taking control of me
Watch the dancing shadows run away
All alone once again, afraidAll these faces, changing their shapes on me
Isolated in my own world, will I ever be free?
Haunting figures around me, I want them to stay
They're always there to protect me
This is one thing you can't take awayListen to the rain falling day by day
Listen to the rain falling day by day by dayI hear you calling, voices are here again
I hear you whisper in my own mind, will it ever change?
Voices, voices, voices, voicesI hear you calling
