Married In Mexico

Mark Wills

So, you say, you went to see a psychic
Lookin' for advice
They said, when you go to sleep at night
Don't close both eyes
Something's goin' on
In your love life
Someone real close
Has somethin' to hide
Now, you wanna hear
A confession from me
Well, you better sit down
I'll tell you everything, it goes
I wanna get married in Mexico
Whisper, "I told you so"
When you get lost in that sunset
Sing an old Spanish lullaby
Where every word makes you cry
I've got two plane tickets and a ring
Yeah, here it is, I confess
I told you everything
There it is
I told you everything
The other day, I was lookin' at my horoscope
Searchin' for a sign
Facin' one big decision
I couldn't make up my mind
How would I ask
You for the rest of your life
When it goes by so fast
Now that you know
Tell me are you surprised?
What are you gonna do
With that tear in your eye?
I wanna get married in Mexico
Whisper, "I told you so"
When you get lost in that sunset
Where every word makes you cry
I've got two plane tickets and a ring

Yeah, here it is, I confess
I told you everything
There it is
I told you everything
I can see us now holdin' hands
Starin' out the window looking down
Above the clouds makin' plans
For when that big bird touches down
But for now
Whisper, "I told you so"
I told you everything
I told you everything
There it is
I told you everything
I told you everything
There it is
