Snows In July

Craig David

I could say I've already forgot you
But you would know I'm lying, girl, I'm see through
When the simple fact is that I need you
But I'm supposed to move on
I can tear your picture up into shreds
But what about that one that's left in my head?
I'm telling everybody you and me are dead
When I'm still holding on
But I (got a better chance of)
Getting hit by lightning
(got a better chance of)
Finding a rainbow and a pot of gold
(if I had the chance Id)
Make everything alright
But I can't so I need you to know
I'll hear your favourite song and won't think of you
I'll stop wondering if you got someone new
Yeah, when it snows in July, like when it snows in July
I'll find somebody else that can take your place
I'll act like I don't desperately miss you babe
When it snows in July, like when it snows in July
When I see you and pretend like I don't know ya
About the time when hell freezes over
I'm feeling like this world is on my shoulder
And I'm supposed to move on
But I (got a better chance of)
Getting hit by lightning

(got a better chance of)
Finding a rainbow and a pot of gold
(if I had the chance Id)
Make everything alright
But I can't so I need you to know
I'll hear your favourite song and won't think of you
I'll stop wondering if you got someone new
Yeah, when it snows in July, like when it snows in July
I'll find somebody else that can take your place
I'll act like I don't desperately miss you babe
When it snows in July, like when it snows in July

It's so much easier said than done then let you go girl
And when it rains in the desert then maybe Ill let you know girl
That I'm over it, look how cold it is here in July
The rivers runs dry, that's when I decide to let you outta my life
I'll hear your favourite song and won't think of you
I'll stop wondering if you got someone new
Yeah, when it snows in July, like when it snows in July
Ill find somebody else that can take your place
Ill act like I don't desperately miss you babe
When it snows in July, like when it snows in July
I'll hear your favourite song and won't think of you
I'll stop wondering if you got someone new
Yeah, when it snows in July, like when it snows in July
I'll find somebody else that can take your place
I'll act like I don't desperately miss you babe
When it snows in July (snows in July)
When it snows in July
