Faker

Groundbreaking

So you think that everything you are is you
Well let me twist and turn your mind and
Make you think twice
'Cause you're gonna see the way it works this time
And all of your clear skies turn to grey
When all along you knew there would come the day
Wen everything fell apart and went awayYou thought that I was gone
Well now I'm back and better than I
Ever was before and
I'm gonna make you cringe and
I'll make you hit the floor 'cause
While I was gone I knew
It isn't who or what you know it's
Not a place to go it's Why you started to begin with
Now you know andEverything you are and Everything you do and Everything you say just
Needs to go away 'cause
It's not you
It's feeling fake
Let's start it all from scratch and
Tear it all down lets
Dance on all the ashes
Burn it to the ground it's
Over now
Lets start againTry to see the other side of our existing Small world as we know it but
There's no way to show it 'cause
We're all too afraid to be ourselves
And after all this time you'd think there'd be
Some grounding
But no that isn't us or what we wanna be
We all gotta conform to what we wanna seeEverything we are and Everything we do and
Everything we say just
Needs to go away 'cause
It's not us
It's feeling fake

Let's start it all from scratch and
Tear it all down lets
Dance on all the ashes
Burn it to the ground it's
Over now
It's over nowIt's okay to be you
It's alrightIt's okay to be youEverything I knew
Everything I know
Will slowly fall apart
With nowhere else to go
Everything I am
And everything you see
Is nothing but a lie
Forced myself to believeNo more excuses
Be what you want
Rise from the ashes
Be who you are
