

What Can You Lose

Madonna

What can you lose? Only the blues
Why keep concealing everything you're feeling
Say it to her, what can you lose? Maybe it shows she's had clues, which she chose to ignore
Maybe though she knows and just wants to go on as before
As a friend, nothing more so she closes the door Well, if she does those are the dues
Once the words are spoken
Something may be broken
Still, you love her, what can you lose? But what if she goes?
At least now, you have part of her
What if she had to choose?
