

Something Real

Shawn McDonald

I just want something real
So tired of hiding how I feel
I can't take another step
'Cause I'm already out of breath
And the weight of it all
Is pulling me under
And the weight of it all
Is making me wonder
How can we know so much
Yet still be so out of touch
And how we miss the point
When it's all about, all about love, all about love?
Can You show me something new?
Can You show me what is true?
I need more than just religion
'Cause I'm religiously unmoved
And the weight of it all
Is pulling me under
And the weight of it all
Is making me wonder
How can we know so much
Yet still be so out of touch?
And how we miss the point
When it's all about, all about love, all about love?
Does anybody feel this?
Does anybody feel this way?
Does anybody feel like they don't belong?
Does anybody see this?
Does anybody see this way?
Does anybody see this way is wrong?
And the weight of it all
Is pulling me under
And the weight of it all
Is making me wonder
How can we know so much
Yet still be so out of touch?
And how we miss the point
When it's all about, all about love, all about love?
I just want something real
