Everything Is Brilliant

Rosi Golan

Standing on the highest cliff
Praying that the sun won't set
So don't you let go of my hand'Cause everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant
And nothing hurtBlinded by a perfect sky
And moments that we try so hard to define
So don't you let me question whyEverything is brilliant, everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant
And nothing hurt
Everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant
And nothing hurtSo let's plant our feet, our roots grow wild, our roots grow deep forever
And like a tree we'll shed our leaves until, everything is brilliantEverything is brilliant, everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant
And nothing hurt
Everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant, everything is brilliant
