

Reinvent the Pain

Neuroticfish

I press my ears against the wall
To realize there's nothing at all
I press my eyes to the window screen
To realize there's nothing in between
I close my eyes to feel again
That nothing ever stays the same
I close my eyes to fear again
The liquid that takes all the pain
I sit and watch the distant need
That cracks me up and makes me bleed
A fragment of eternity
Is all I ever need to see
Every time you say my name
You reinvent the pain
