Shallow

God Forbid

Where do we? Where do we begin and end this journey?
My back. My back against the wall, and my head raised high
Forward against the odds
A heavy burden
Trapped between the extremes. Comming apart at the seams
Left alone to stand on my own
You're shallow. So shallow... come on
Here I am above the world trying to break you down
Misguided attempt to restore the balance
Isolation from the outside world
A heavy burden
You're shallow. So shallow... come on
Surfacing above the world in suspended animation
Surfacing above the world in suspended animation
Beaten into the ground. Comming apart at the seams
You're Shallow
(solo: Patrick Pintavalle, Peter Joseph)
