Past Mistakes

The Methadones

I'm trying to move ahead without thinking of what I left behind.
But it doesn't do me any good.
There's peices of the past that come up and make it hard on me now.
What's done is done, I must move on.[Chorus]
Things are much different now-those days are gone.
We're spending too much time-with what went wrong.
I've been in debt from past mistakes for far too long.I've learned from my mistakes the best I Can, the best that I know how.
There's really nothing mroe I can do.
There's so many things that bring us down bad memory lane.
That always get the best of me and you.
