For Once In Your Life (Demo)

The Jealous Sound

The decks just build and break
Everybody takes
Here I stand waiting to be movedJust a problem solved
Slowly it dissovles
The crowd that I'm passing throughIt feels so good to feel
There's nothing here that's realFor once in your life
Are you part of this machine
Are you living in this dream
Are you at where I'm atEveryone is fixed
And callings to the sky
From 2am to 6
A candy-coated highIn the dawn it was clear
You were lost in the night
In the calm that was here
As you're washed in the lightAnd glad it feels so good to feel
There is nothing here that's realFor once in your life
Do you honestly believe
You could ever leave
Any time that you wantDid you find something deeper
Something profound
It's hard to make sense
Kids sprawled on the groundIs your new god in front of you
This electrical storm
Is your new god in front of you
Are you dead or rebornDid you find something deeper
Something profound
The sun's coming up
As we're coming downIn the dawn it was clear
You were lost in the night
In the calm that was here
As you're washed in the lightFeels so good to feel
There's nothing here that's real
For once in your life
