Broken

The Birthday Massacre

Time is the promise
It turns and tells them what to do
It makes them dishonest
They let the suspicion kill the truthBroken heart, broken mind
When you let me in
Did you not know where I had been?And love's what they wasted
A lie that makes their dreams come true
They're hiding their faces
Their smiles can break the heart in twoBroken heart, broken mind
When you let me in
Did you not know where I had been?
