

When You Love A Sinner

Martina McBride

when you love a sinner,
you hate the sin
you hate the temptress in the bottle seducin' him again and you blame the cold for the winter
when you love a sinner
I tell myself that everything's okay
I paint a pretty smile on my face he lies and says, "he'll change" but on his breath and in his veins the truth still lingers deep down, you know that it's a crime you know you didn't pull the trigger but you're the one who does the time and you pay the debt; you're the lender you love a sinner

I tell myself that everything's okay
I paint a pretty smile on my face but I'm slowly lettin' go cause in my heart I know that I can't make him better and I've been goin' under and now I understand you can't tread water with a drownin' man
I love a sinner
I justify it how I can so it's the sin
I'm leavin, not the man
