Is the Doctor in Today

SHEL

hello, is the doctor in today would you tell him that I cant recall my name I've been swinging from the stars so long not sure where my mind has gone safe to say, we're never really hometell me, is the fortune teller made I pawned a lonely life to hear my fate I've been reaching out into the dark beating on my quiet heart tell me, is anybody there is anybody there is anybody therewell I think I heard a voice calling out in all the noise
hello, is the weather man away would you tell him that I'm leaving home today I've been waiting for the sun to shine illuminate these crooked lines safe to say, we'll always find a roadtell me, is the child still alive the one who used to look out through my eyes I've been listening for her favorite words a gentle voice I haven't heard
tell me, is anybody there is anybody therewell, I think I hear a voice calling out in all the noise
is anybody there
maybe you hear me late at night I've been searching all my life is there anybody there is there anybody therehello, is the doctor in today
