

Blue to Black

Daniel Levi Goans

We used to laugh
Dancing around the garden

I used to cry and you would smile and wipe my eyes
And you tell me this is not the end

Now you've faded out its dark where you used to be
Now you've faded out there's a star where you used to be
I call your name but you say you can't know me anymore

The weight of a bloodline the wake of your bloodline
Like a millstone tied around the neck rushing blue to black
