

The Fire

The Blackout

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I hate what you are and every word that you say
You're fucking nothing to me and after all you've betrayed
I can take your lies and everything running through
Just you wait and see We watch the flames take over our lives
Melt us away, turn the darkness into light
We are the heat that will keep you awake
With open eyes before the fire, before the fire breaks You hate what I am and everything that I say
I'm what you wanted to be, you saw yourself betrayed
You can't have my life and everything running through
You will never be me We watch the flames take over our lives
Melt us away, turn the darkness into light
We are the heat that will keep you awake
With open eyes before the fire, before the fire breaks I am the fire, the fucking fire
I am the fire, the fucking fire
Fire, I am the fire, the fucking fire
I am the fire As the flames rise up, you can wait for dead
But then we carry on, step back and watch us burn We watch the flames take over our lives
Melt us away, turn the darkness into light
We are the heat that is keeping you awake
With open eyes I am the fire, the fucking fire
I am the fire, the fucking fire
Fire, I am the fire, the fucking
The fire, I am the fire

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>