

Last Night You Saved My Life

Backstreet Boys

Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah Its 3 am, I can't sleep
Too late to call this is not like me
But I'm still lifted from the tattoo on the small of your back
The angle of your chin when you were looking back See, god you're beautiful and I'm still coming down
I'd like a one-night stand, but you had to stick around
But I'm still floating on the perfume you left on my sheets
I haven't changed a thing since you abandoned me Tonight I stare out the window
Knowing I'll never again be alone Last night you changed my life
And I was stuck in the moment that you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life
Last night you saved my life Your fingernails running down my spine
All day I hear your voice like velvet in my mind
It's like I knew you all my life even though we just met
My children in your eyes, something you don't expect I had to stop myself from calling all day long
I'm glad you called me first, I wanted to be strong
But you were laughing because I answered after just one ring
I tried to play it off
But you knew everything Last night you changed my life
And I was stuck in the moment that you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you saved my life with your love Last night you saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you saved my life Ohh yeah I stare at the sky looking for the morning sun
Can't wait to tell you you're the only one
Last night you saved my life And I was stuck in the moment you kissed me the first time
Last night you saved my life with your love
Saved my life (saved my life)
Last night you changed my life
