

Fight!

Nigel Godrich

Storm brewing for a long time, don't think that I can't read the danger signs.

What's the matter, nothing, what's the matter, nothing.

Some people like things left unspoken, I prefer to have it out in the open

Some people like things left unspoken, I don't care if you shout it, get it out in the open.

[Chorus]

Come on, come on lets have a fight [Repeat: x3]

Come on, come on, come on

The nights ending, we've both had a fair few, I'm being stopped getting anywhere near you

Whispering, doing my head in, yeah there's friends between us but I'm not listening

I've overheard of a coupla clenched fists, a few more drinks and it comes to the surface

What's the matter, nothing, what's the matter, nothing.

Some people like things left unspoken, I prefer to have it out in the open

Some people like things left unspoken, I don't care if you shout it, get it out in the open.

[Chorus]

'What's that? I'll 'ave him, slaughter him, what? He's a bit bigger, but he's drunker isn't he? When he's not looking, honestly let's keep it outside! I'm not joking

Some people like things left unspoken, I prefer to have it out in the open

Some people like things left unspoken, I don't care if you shout it, get it out in the open.

[Chorus]

Fight!
