

Evergreen

Switchfoot

Me and the trees, losing our leaves
Falling like blood on the ground
I want to be evergreen Everything dies, I know last night
Part of me wasn't around
I want to be evergreen
Yeah, evergreen Waiting, and listening, hoping and missing
All of our time left alone, I'm the one cutting the rope
Frostbite in winter, 'cause like a splinter
You corner and follow me down
I'm the one cutting the rope, yeah Holiday end, I'm here once again
And I'm left alone on the bus with my
Head on the ground, in hopes that I'm
Found by you, this time around The sun will rise soon and tackle the moon
Chasing it still in the sky, all that I've got is tonight
Excuses and reasons and now tis the season
For all that I never got right, all that I've got is tonight Holiday end, I'm here once again
And I'm left alone on the bus with my
Head on the ground, in hopes that I'm
Found by you, this time around The night is a crow, saying come hold me
All that I know is I've been so lonely for thee
All that I know, and all that I know, found itself under your rain
I want to be evergreen, I want to be evergreen Holiday end, I'm here once again
And I'm left alone on the bus with my
Head on the ground, in hopes that I'm
Found by you, this time around I want to be evergreen, I want to live all year round
I want to be evergreen, I want to live all year round
I want to be evergreen, I want to live all year round
I want to be evergreen, I want to live all year round
