

Cinema Paradiso

Chris Botti

Silent ceremonies rendering the ages
I turn around and see your eyes
Shining out the love
Engraved with confidence and faith
The promises we made and betrayed Silent ceremonies rendering the ages
I close my eyes and see your face
Showing the despair
And worn with memories of loss
The roads that we have crossed
On our way to freedom Silent ceremonies rendering the ages
I see a star in every sky
Shining out the love
Embraced by memories of bliss
The joy that we caressed in a hazy daydream
