

Eyes of Darkness

Axxis

Spreding out the wings of night - Overtaking all mankind

Getting back the crown to rule again over the kingdom of the night!Now the time has come, when he open up his eyes...

...the eyes of the darknessCan you hear the bells chime for the final goodbye.

Read the signs everywhere and bewareA million ravens will fly

Will hide the sun and the sky

They stand for every soul

That once a demon stoleThe fall of burning rain

Suffocates the world in pain

Watch out for the signs

Watching the skies

Watch out for these red burning eyesMy eyes - in the darkness of your life

No scape, your world is mine

Everywhere my shadows flyEyes of the darkness - sings out of twilight

Look - face to face in the abyss of time

Eyes of the darkness watching the world now

Demons of darkness take shape in this world

And they stay... they stay... they stayCan you hear the bells chime - life has passed you by

All the signs I have send - prophesasing your endI'm a creature of dust

Feel the greed and the lust

Look in the mirror of pride

You see my eyes open wideForever darkness and night

Isuffocate your world with my might

See the heaven is black, there's no way back,

Invite you to the world of the deadEyes of the darkness - sings out of twilight

Look - face to face in the abyss of time

Eyes of the darkness watching the world now

Demons of darkness take shape in this world

...and they stayHear the bells! there's no way back.

Your world is mine. I'm still alive!Can you hear the bells chime for the final goodbye

All the signs I have send - prophesasing your end...
