

Embrace

Bethan Myfanwy Hughes

I'm holdin' you
I don't know what you want
I don't hear what you said
    Truth behind the lies
'Cause I can't see what's in your head
    And spread your wings and fly
    Out in a brave new world
    Let this be my prayer
To keep you safe when I'm not there
    Can we love and live apart?
I don't know, no, I don't know
    How can we divide the heart?
I don't know, no, I don't know
And when the night falls, and when the sky falls
    I long for your embrace
And in the cold night, under the street light
    I long for your embrace
    Livin' separate lives
I have faith in you, away from you
    Like a lonely child
    I will hang on every word
    Embrace
    Through the mists of time
    Lovers can be friends
The power of the human heart
The secrets in the souls of men
    All my blessings in disguise
I don't know, no, I don't know
    Reunited we will rise
I don't know, no, I don't know
And when the night falls, and when the sky falls
    I long for your embrace
And in the cold night, under the street light
    I long for your embrace
    Livin' separate lives
I have faith in you, away from you
    Like a lonely child
    I will hang on every word
And when the night falls, and when the sky falls

I long for your embrace
Another daybreak, another heartache
I long for your embrace
Livin' separate lives
Away from you
Embrace
Embrace the lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely, lonely life
Lonely days and nights
We can live our life
Embrace
Embrace with our separate lives
Embrace, embrace
The lonely, lonely lives
Lonely days and nights
I will never send away
Embrace, embrace
Embrace the child inside
