

Sleepless Night

Fernando Ortega

Another sleepless night
Im turning in my bed
Long before the red sun risesIn these early hours
Im falling again
Into the river of my worriesWhen the river runs away
I find a shelter in your nameJesus, only light on the shore
Only hope in the storm
Jesus, let me fly to Your side
There I would hide, JesusHear my anxious prayer
The beating of my heart
The pulse and the measure of my unbeliefSpeak Your words to me
Before I come apart
Help me believe in what I cannot seeBefore the river runs away
I will call upon your nameJesus, only light on the shore
Only hope in the storm
Jesus, let me fly to Your side
There I would hide, JesusJesus, only light on the shore
Only hope in the storm
Jesus, let me fly to Your side
There I would hideJesus, only light on the shore
Only hope in the storm
Jesus, let me fly to Your side
There I would hide, Jesus
